

TALK JOHN DERN FOR PRESIDENT

Utah's Citizen May be Selected As Next Head of American Mining Congress.

CONSERVATION TO THE FORE

Gifford Pinchot Will Deliver an Address and Letter From Secy. Ballinger Will be Read.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 25.—There was no Sunday holiday today for the committees in charge of the preparations for the American Mining congress, which convenes here tomorrow. Delegates to the congress began arriving this afternoon and the official welcome is being given in automobiles. The delegates are spending the night in automobiles going to and fro between the hotels and railroad stations to accommodate the mining men on trains due between now and dawn.

John Dern of Salt Lake City, who is being talked of as next president of the congress, was among the first arrivals. Ex-Senator William A. Clark of Montana wired his brother, J. Ross Clark of this city, today that he was coming on the way. Gov. J. N. Gillett left his home in Eureka only today, and the honor of welcoming the delegates to the first session tomorrow will devolve on Alden Anderson, former lieutenant governor and president of the state bank commission.

Sidney Norman, chairman of the convention committee, said tonight that large numbers of delegates would arrive tomorrow in time to hear the annual address of President Buckley and the speech of Gifford Pinchot, who will deliver his first remarks on conservation as it relates to the oil industry, particularly in California, tomorrow evening.

Mr. Pinchot's address, which will be preceded or followed by Secy. Ballinger's letter on the same subject, probably will open the general discussion on conservation in its bearing upon the fortunes and future of oil and mining men throughout the west.

That conservation and the problems it involves will be the topic of greatest interest during the present sessions of the congress is forecasted by the invitation sent out urging all the mining and oil men of the country to be present.

The invitation said in part: "Within the last three years, it is safe to say, the total annual output of mineral, coal and oil wealth in the United States has decreased not less than 25 and perhaps 33 per cent.

"If this retrogression, already responsible for conditions of near-stagnation in many states and territories, is allowed to continue, then mining and oil development will soon cease to attract the energies of the prospector, the promoter and the capitalist.

"Conservation and the operation of conservation law—attributed by operators in many fields as the chief cause for this unfortunate condition of retrogression and stagnation—have been given conspicuous place on the program (of the congress) and speakers of national reputation, possessing or reflecting every angle of thought or theory on this intensely important subject,

OPEN AIR RECITATIONS FOR CHILDREN RUN MAD

Mont Clair, N. J., Sept. 26.—Two hundred Mont Clair schoolchildren will study and recite their lesson this winter in an open-air school on the coldest and windiest hilltop in the vicinity of the city. Protected from the zero weather by roomy "sitting bags" modeled after the sleeping bags of the arctic, they will sit at their desks under a large tent, the sides of which will be pulled down on their ears when cold. Special dress will be provided free for the children. They will wear woolen sweaters and woolen caps which may be pulled down on their ears when cold. Blocks of heated soapstone will be put in the bottom of the bags to keep the children's feet warm. In the morning the pupils will receive hot milk and crackers.

MEMORIES OF PUMPKIN PIE CAUSED MAN'S ARREST

Chicago, Sept. 26.—Memories of his old home in New Hampshire were awakened by the sight of a pumpkin pie in the window of a restaurant, resulted in the arrest yesterday of William Moore. He will be arraigned in the municipal court on a charge of begging.

Moore, who is 35 years old, today has not eaten a piece of home-made pumpkin since he left New Hampshire 15 years ago. He was passing the restaurant when he espied a large pumpkin in the window. At the side of the pumpkin was a delicious-looking pie. It was placarded, "Home-made New Hampshire pumpkin pie—the kind your mother used to make."

Moore knew he was "broke" and he unconsciously found himself searching his pockets for a stray dime to satisfy his appetite.

Moore held out his hand and asked the man for a dime. Just then a policeman approached and arrested Moore.

Chinese Prince Comes to America to Inspect Navy and Naval School.

When Prince Tsai Hsun, uncle of the emperor of China, reaches the Atlantic seaboard on his tour of inspection of the navy of Uncle Sam one of the first places he will visit will be the great Naval academy at Annapolis. Arrangements have been made to entertain the prince there Sept. 28, and, while all of the midshipmen will not be present at that time on account of the cruises abroad, he will be treated to such hospitality as the officers present can arrange. Following the prince's visit to Honolulu, where he inspected the fortifications, he landed in San Francisco and visited Mare Island navy yard. He will spend much time in Washington and also at the Brooklyn navy yard. He has already inspected the great navies of the old world, and when he returns to the Celestial empire he will make recommendations looking for a bigger navy for his country.

The penalty for begging on the street is six months in the house of correction.

FEWER DEATHS FROM GRIP.

Washington, Sept. 26.—There was a falling off in 1909 in fatalities on account of grip amounting to almost one-third when compared with the figures for 1908, according to the census bureau's mortality report. In the area covered, slightly more than half the United States, the deaths were 8,849 as compared with 9,989 deaths in 1908.

On the other hand, there was a marked increase in deaths due to pneumonia, the number enlarging for 61,259 to 70,023. This was an increase of more than nine in each hundred thousand of population. The pneumonia deaths came within seven of the number credited to tuberculosis of the lungs, which was 70,000. Tuberculosis remained at the top of the list.

There also was a larger number of deaths in 1909 than in 1908 from diseases of the nervous circulatory and genitourinary system. A lower rate from meningitis is recorded than in former years. There was a falling off in the death rate due to diarrhoea and enteritis, which chiefly affect children.

OLD GUARD WILL FORCE THE ISSUE

New York State Republican Committee Will Reconsider Vote Selecting Sherman.

SOME TROUBLE OVER TAFT

Said it Will be as to Endorsement of Administration—No Compromise For Roosevelt.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 25.—The battle between old guard Republicans and progressives for control of the party through the state convention which meets here on Tuesday continued unabated today, but interest has shifted from the Sherman-Roosevelt fight for temporary chairmanship to the nature of platform that will be adopted with special emphasis on the direct nomination plank.

Although it has been announced by the progressive leaders that the committee would not be asked to reconsider its vote by which Vice President Sherman was selected over Theodore Roosevelt for temporary chairman, it was said tonight that the old guard would take the bull by the horns and force the issue on their own account.

This indicates that the old guard regards itself as still safely entrenched in the committee.

While the reason advanced is that the committee owes itself a formal vindication for its action in view of the aspirations that have been cast upon it by Col. Roosevelt's friends, the latter say that the real purpose is to harass the committee on record for a second time that he is not the choice for temporary chairman.

Though indications tonight point to a safe control by the Roosevelt forces, a report from old guard headquarters is that only 40 votes were needed to swing the convention into the Sherman column.

Members of the old guard were saying tonight that a line-up on the temporary chairman is a very different proposition from a line-up on the platform.

It is also rumored that trouble is likely to arise over the Taft endorsement. No opposition has developed to an endorsement of the president's administration, but there are hints that the old guard may attempt to put the Republicans of New York state through the convention on record as endorsing the renomination of Taft two years hence.

ROOSEVELT UNCOMPROMISING.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 25.—There will be no compromise in his fight for a direct nomination law, Col. Roosevelt said today. He declared he believed enough delegates would support his stand to put into the platform a plank embodying his ideas.

"The statement that I have considered a compromise on the primaries plank is untrue," he said.
